

How state government really works?

How to make a difference?

How public policy is shaped?

How law is created?

You should consider a legislative internship.

What do Interns do?

- Ten Senate Democratic Interns work directly with State Senators during each legislative session of the Indiana General Assembly.
- Several specialty Interns will work with our media relations office, our fiscal and policy staff, and our staff attorneys.

How would this benefit my future?

- Interns learn the legislative process back to front, gaining an in-depth understanding of how laws are made.
- Participants can observe and directly assist policymakers as they work together to build consensus and support for their initiatives.

Application deadline is October 15, 2004.

*Interviews will take place at the Statehouse,
October 12-29th*
